"Louisiana Loyalty."

Under this heading the Abolition papers of the North publish the following characteristic article from the New Orleans Era-a journal controlled by imported Abolitionists or their

What then is the duty of the loyal men of Louisians? It is, in our opinion, to organize, to discuss, to spread facts before the people, and by the power and example of truth, to overthrow the error that prevails among a portion of the people, and when the sentiment that animates them is sufficiently strong, as it certainly will become, a Convention of the loyal people of Louisians will give legal form to the decree of Providence, by making freedom the fundamental law. We do not think there is mything to discourage the Union men who have embarked in this work; we do not doubt of their ultimate and complete triumph. Louisiana, redeemed from treason and slavery, will take the place to which she will be entitled among her sister States of the Union.

This to plain enough for anybody but the willfully blind to understand. The "loyal men" of Louisians, that is, the Imported Abolitionists and their adherents, are to work to prevent the State from coming back into the Union on the old basis, until they think they can carry their point with the aid of the military, and then they will call a Convention of the "loyal people" (the Radical Abolitioniste) in Louisiana, and force upon the State a new Constitution formed upon a radical basis. This is implously termed giving a "legal form to the decrees of Providence," as though Providence needed Abolition sanction to legalize its de-

The writer of the article we have quoted does not think that the radical revolutionists who have enbacked in this work of overturing the State Government, the Conststution and institutions of Louisians, and whom he hypocritically styles "Union men," have sny thing to discourage them, and he anticipates their final and complete triumph. Louisiana te, like other Southern States, never, according to the radical programme, to resume her old place as a sister State of the Union. This talk about her coming back as a free State is all gammon, The intention is not to permit her people to decide upon the quention of slavery or no slavery in a legal and constitutional way, but to effect a revolution by violence and fraud to answer the selfish and ambitious ends of the unprincipled radical Jacobin leaders.

The Missouri Radicats Claim and Disclaim Lincoln.

One of the most visulent Radical organs Missouri, the St. Louis Democrat, professes to regard Secretary SEWARD's late speech at Auburn, N. Y., as an authoritative exposition of the entire democratic county ticker elected ident Lincoln's views. It says that " Mr onflicting with those of his chief [Lincoln], jurisles: whose most intimate counselor he is." The Democrat serives at the conclusion that Post-Lincorn's views were wholly unauthorized, inasmuch as Mr. Szwand in his Auburn speech declared that "slavery must perish with the ine arrection, thus taking ground directly opposite se that on which Mr. Blaza took his stand."

But the St. Louis organ of the German radicals, the News Zeit, is not so anxious to claim Mr. Limours, but asserts that he has been repudiated by the late election and "thrown among the rusty old iron where he belongs." This is the language of that "loyal" radical

St. Louis has repudiated Lincoln as well as Gamble. Now, at least, there can be no doubt as to the significance of our radical election victory. It was achieved in defiance of Mr. Lincoln and his Administration, as well as of the Copperheads, and Mr. Lincoln has thus been thrown among the rusty old iron where he belongs. To be sure, as long as his term lasts, we are dependent upon him, and must be true to him as far as is proper for good citizens.—But we will be glad to get rid of him, for he has not merely shown himself unfit for the has not merely shown himself unfit for the situation, but he has also allowed himself to be abused in the most miserable manner against his best friends and against freedom. On that account he has now been convicted by the peo-ple, like Gamble.

Tus Philadelphia (Pa.) Age handsomely indones our views as to the non-agitation of the Presidential question at this time. It says: "who shall be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency? To this inquiry the Columbus (Obio) Statemen thus sensibly replies:"

It prints our article, and adds that our opinion

The following remarks, embodied in the correspondence of the Richmond Sentinel, are quite as applicable North as South:

With Ged's blessing, Southern armies can never be besten and subdued but by one power;
not by Federal bayonets, never! But they can be besten, whipped, and destroyed by the Southern people! If, while our glorious sons dare their fate on bloody fields, and endure sufferings unparalleled in history, and cheerfully subents to death, those who remain at home under friendly shelter, with soft pillows and domestic comforts, proceed systematically to rob the soldier's wife and impoverish his oblidren, and amass towerses of legalized swindling, bankrupting the Government and reducing the very noblest of our population to prospective paapertem, the army will be besten! There is a limit to human endurance, and those brave men matry

The Franklin county Soldiers' vote was countd yesterday afterneon and last night, and foots up as follows:

It is proper to add, that poll books were reected, which were not made out and returned according to the Soldiers' Voting Law, giving 192 additional votes to the Republican County

Subtracting the above majorities from the SEWARD never speaks unadvisedly, and he Democratic majorities on the home vote, and would never, while holding the position he the result is—the election or the entire Demdoes, give expression to opinions materially coratic County Ticket, by the following ma-

Terrible Prices of Food in Richmond

Richmond correspondence of the Charleston Mercury. "If we vote down the maximum to-day, the provision market will be easier." The cry was re-echoed on all sides, and timid people were made to believe that the bill then pending in the Virginia Legislature to regulate prices was the came the high price of flour; that it was only necessary to defeat that measure, and to permit "free competition" among the hoarders, extortioners and speculators in breadstuffs, to cause a fall in flour and meal. The "maximum" was voted down, the bill before the Legislature was defeated; and there has been "free competition" among the apeculators—not to reduce, but to increase the cost to cusiomers.—On the 19th day of October, flour was quoted in Richmond at from fifty to sixty dollars per barrel, corn meal twolve, and corn ten and a half to eleven and a half per bushel. On the 29th of the same month flour was quoted at from aixty to sixty-five dollars per barrel; and yesterday, November 5, flour would bring from ninety to one hundred dollars per barrel, and without ballast; and will fall—who can tell when?

Louisiana-The Opponents of her Res-

There is a large class of the bone fide citizens of New Orleans and Louisians -- probably a ma- over the greater part of the island, and report wity-who are d cidedly in favor of a return to the old unity and peace we and they once en joyed under our common National Constitution Opposed to these are two classes—one a faction of thorough Secessionists who will not consent to the return of their State to the old Union. and are hostile to every movement designed to bring it about. These the true conservative Union men of Louisians might easily render harmless, were there not a second class of opponents to the return of the State to her old states in the Union, consisting of imported 306 Abolitionists from the North and their hangerson who expect to find and do find their selfish ends promoted by keeping up the present state of things, and making common cause with the Secessionists in keeping the State out of the Union.

The Journal of Commerce has the following truthful expose of the Abolition role in regard to Louisiana, which applies equally well to Tennessee and other Southern States. Ultra Secessionism and radical Abolitionism walk hand in hand in a common opposition to, and hatred of the Union our fathers made. So it has been from the beginning of the war, and so it will be, until the Union is utterly destroyed and the country rained, unless the people arouse, and by a united and determined effort, foll the machinations of both, and save the Union and the Constitution before it is too late. The Journal of Commerce says:

It is of course the intention of the Abolition ists to organize a government in Louisians, on Abolition principles, and if possible to politic vote of that State for an Abolition candidate for President next fall. It would militate very strongly against their views and wishes it Louisiana should resume her place in the Union by a movement of her own citizens. that event there is not the alightest possibility of using her for Abolition purposes. It has been part of the Abolitionists' plan to hold off as long as possible from the attempt to make what they call a "Free-State" movement in Louisiana, lest the movement should slip from their hands and be controlled by the real citigens and voters of the State, who are in favor of a return to the Union. The course pursued, therefore, has been to encourage the holding of the State in military hands, and endeavor to affix the stigma of traitor and enemy on all who were in favor of anything but an Abolition-

We cannot compliment the Administration at Washington on its management of such States as Tennessee and Louisians, or the re-sults which that management brings about.— More than a year of the military governorship of Johnson in Tennessee has falled to restore even the semblance of a State government there, and in Louisiana the very attempt to bring the State back to her place in the Union is met by the adherents of the Administration with the most vehement opposition.that they represent the military governor and the commander of the descriment, and that these persons are as strongly opposed as they to the return of the old State of Louislana

New Orleans is precisely that which exists everywhere at the North—the Republican lead-ers declaring that the old Union shall never tion of the radicals becomes more and more open against the Union. They have singularly enough assumed the name of "unconditional Unionists," when they are the only men ho really place a condition on their loyally emancipation" The efforts of the "free State men" as they call themselves in New Ocleans Converse is undoubtedly elected Senator in this district.

So in every State which our arms reoccupy for the Union. Politicians began the war, and politicians will prevent its close in peace, so long as they see a prospect of power and epolis from the Union. Politicians will prevent its close in peace, so long as they see a prospect of power and epolis iron the continuance. With windom at the helm, we know that the Ship of State can be saved. Under present policy it cannot.

The War in San Domingo.

The New York Hereld publishes letters from Sau Domingo, dated on the 17th and 18th of October, the writers of which had journeyed puttee, in sure, without any definite result — Spain, it is said, could and would put down the rising of the people; but the question was, whether it would pay her to attempt to hold the country. The Spanish blockade of the coast was very strict, and traders from the United States are cautioned to have their papers in perfect order. The splendid country seat of General Cerusan, a model for the island, was leveled to the ground. General Santana, who renewed the Spanish rule, was at San Pedro, in the pay of Queen Isabella, surrounded by two thousand Spaniards, and about as many more Indians, who are devoted to him.
